Unit 1 and Unit 2 were traveling eastbound on SR 204 when, according to witnesses, Unit 1 pulled in front of Unit 2 and tried to make a U-Turn. Unit 2 struck Unit 1 from behind and the impact spun Unit 1 around and into the on coming lane. Unit 1 rolled onto the shoulder of the westbound lane of SR 204 and Unit 2 stopped in the lefthand eastbound lane of SR 204. debris from the impact was thrown across both eastbound lanes of SR 204 from just east of 10th street SE to the approximatively 200 feet of distance to where Unit 2 was stopped. Both drivers were transported to the hospital for reported pains and possible concussions. Airbag deployment in Unit 2 only.

Driving westbound on highway 204 I witnessed a red car travelling eastbound quickly veer to his left as if to do a u-turn or merge into a (non-existing) turning lane. I did not see wether the red car was travelling in the right or left lane before its sudden movement.

While the car was turning, I witnessed an impact from behind. Debris flew into the air and the red car was spun to its left until facing the opposite direction on the westbound shoulder.

After the impact then I could see what hit the car - a large passenger truck.
