Proposed 2022 City Budget

City Council will also be taking public testimony during the November 9th budget hearing on proposed 2022 revenue sources for the General Fund including property taxes. Any person desiring to present testimony may do so at the above-described hearing or may submit comments in writing to the City Clerk prior to the hearing by sending them via email at deputyclerk@lakestevenswa.gov or by mail: City Hall Attn: City Clerk P.O. Box 257 Lake Stevens, WA 98258

The 2022 Budget process began this summer with budget instructions going out to City Department Heads on September 3rd. Notification emails were sent to the head of each department that included budget instructions, a draft budget schedule, and the initial base budget created by the Finance Department.

The initial base budget starts with a forecast of future revenues from all sources based on current trends, new initiatives, and resources provided by the Association of Washington Cities (AWC) and the Municipal Research Service Center (MRSC). Initial expenditure budgets generally start as a baseline equal to, or slightly above, the prior year's budget with the exception of one-time requests that are removed from the total. This initial base budget includes current staffing levels, current programs, and current levels of service only. Any additional positions, personnel, or program expenditures are included as requests to the budget.

Departments have the opportunity to submit requests for additional staffing, equipment, and projects based on the needs of their department and the city as a whole.

The Mayor and City Administrator meets with each department regarding the requests in an attempt to prioritize the budget based on the City Council priorities and available future funding. The Mayor's recommended budget, which often includes multiple alternatives, is presented to City Council during a workshop meeting in early October. The remaining workshop study sessions are for Council to discuss recommendations and give feedback based on citizen communication and city needs.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Falling leaves are here, please help keep the storm drains clear! The City needs your help to keep the storm drains clear to prevent localized flooding.

- Leaves and other debris cover the storm drain and prevent rainwater from flowing into the drain.
- Please take a moment to locate the drain closest to your house and move the leaves away from the drain.
- Please dispose of the leaves in a green waste bin to prevent them from moving back over the drain.
